GENERAL

All travel arrangements must be reserved through Concur unless directed otherwise by the client.

Use Concur online for all reservations including air, rental car, and lodging.

If Concur is unavailable or you are travelling internationally, contact Direct Travel directly. Complete a travel profile by selecting either the ROVISYS LINK or RBT LINK.

All expenses require a legitimate BUSINESS PURPOSE and a detailed receipt whenever one is normally provided.

Cash advances if necessary, may be obtained for extended travel by submitting an ADVANCE REQUEST (in MS word) 'Administration' folder. See RAP 005 Document Templates Policy

Allowable expenses are listed below, and all recordkeeping must be captured within the Expense App. The Expense App. is to only be used by company employees.

Expenses are to be submitted in a timely manner. No expenses will be reimbursed that are submitted after three months from the date the expense was incurred. The only exception to this would be credits for unused airline tickets.

For employees temporarily relocating traveling continuously for more than one year, please see information on IRS One Year Rule at the end of this RAP.

AIRLINE

Book air travel as early as possible to obtain the lowest fare. Select flights that are identified as “Most Compliant” to company policy.

Use the company American Express on file to avoid personal credit issues.

You may only submit an air travel expense ON or AFTER the last day of travel associated with your itinerary.

Note: All business related air travel should be completed using a commercially licensed and insured airline/charter service. Individual employees may pilot themselves for business purposes only if proof of insurance and the appropriate liability waivers have been filed with the company in advance. Employees are explicitly prohibited from piloting RoviSys customers, contacts, affiliates and other employees in connection with RoviSys business functions.

ENTERTAINMENT

Entertainment expenses will be reimbursed at cost but should be reserved for special company events or when customers are present.

LODGING

Select lodging that is reasonably priced and close to where you are conducting business.

Use your personal credit card for reservations as the card must be presented at the hotel desk.

You may only submit a lodging expense ON or AFTER the last day of your stay.

MEALS

Meals, including tip, for an employee traveling on business must be reasonable and will be reimbursed at cost. Meals will be reimbursed at cost when employees are conducting business provided the meal expense is not lavish or extravagant.

MEETINGS AND SEMINARS

These should be paid via company credit card or check. Contact the AP Department for payment AFTER a PO is authorized. The PO should include the date(s) of the event. If you are paying for the meeting/seminar with your personal card, you may only submit a meeting or seminar expense ON or AFTER the last day. Put the date(s) of the event in the description area and this will become the date of the expense.

MILEAGE (personal auto)

Travel by vehicle when one-way trips require less than 4 hours of driving.

Personal vehicles are recommended for business travel and must remain in good condition and properly insured.

Always operate a motor vehicle safely and in accordance with the law.

All accidents, regardless of severity, must be reported to the police, your immediate supervisor and the CFO if third party is involved.

Mileage expenses will be reimbursed based on business required travel. Starting in 2020, mileage from your home, or permanent work site, to a temporary (less than 1 year) "work" location will be reimbursed. If an employee does not report to their primary work location during a business day, full mileage between home and the meeting/work location is reimbursable at the IRS mileage rate. Employees assigned to a work location expected to extend over 1 year at the time of assignment are not eligible for travel reimbursement to the work site.

MISC

Use the Miscellaneous category on the rare occasion when an expense does not belong in another category and a purchase order cannot be issued.

PER DIEM MEALS

In cases of extended onsite stays when the client reimburses RoviSys on a per diem basis, meals will be reimbursed on a per diem basis.

PER DIEM TRAVEL AND LODGING

In cases of extended onsite stays when the client reimburses RoviSys on a per diem basis, travel and lodging will be reimbursed on a per diem basis to the employee as well.

SALES PROMOTIONS

Sales promotions should generally be handled through a purchase order and not through the expenses app. In the rare event that a PO cannot be used, you may only submit a meeting or seminar expense ON or AFTER the last day of the meeting or seminar.

TRANSPORTATION

The Transportation category should be used for all expenses associated with transportation when traveling including airline fees, baggage fees, rental cars, gas, tolls, parking, taxi or other ride service, bus, etc.

Rental Cars

Inspect rental cars and report any damage on the rental agreement before leaving the rental car facility.
 Return rental cars in the condition you received them with a full tank of gas.
 Use your personal credit card for reservations as the card must be presented when leaving the rental car facility.
 You may only submit a rental car expense ON or AFTER the return of the rental car and final bill is issued.
 For more information on rental car inspections and insurance, please reference the Rental Car Flowchart.
 If your rental vehicle was damaged, please reference the Rental Car Damage Flowchart.
 For proof of car rental insurance please select your company: RoviSys Proof of Insurance / RBT Proof of Insurance

International Rental Cars:

Employees are permitted to rent Cars in Canada and US Territories as they are covered under our insurance.
 For countries outside the US, Canada and US Territories, employees must seek approval from their PM prior to renting a car.
 Employees must purchase rental insurance for countries outside of the US, Canada, and US Territories.

IRS One Year Rule

1. Work at RoviSys involves in-office work and out of town/customer site work. Staffing changes from week to week, and even though there may be discussions about long term site assignments, an employee's tax home does not change until their time at a single site exceeds 12 months.
2. Once 12 months at any single location is exceeded, an employee is subject to the IRS "One year rule".
3. Once the One Year Rule activates for an employee, all travel compensation related to employee's new tax home location is subject to compensation/payroll tax, and must be flagged as taxable income in the Expenses App. Travel compensation includes:
 1. Lodging
 2. Day to day living expenses (by reimbursed receipts or per diem).
 3. Extended Onsite Pay is ALWAYS taxable travel compensation.
4. The One Year Rule changes the employee's tax home to the project locale for the duration of the work exceeding 12 months until One Year Rule Deactivation.
 1. Travel outside of employee's new tax home territory does allow for non-taxable/100% reimbursed travel expenses as if they belonged to a local office in the new tax home location.

One Year Rule Deactivation

Once the One Year rule has been activated, the employee's tax home remains at that location until a new tax home is established. This happens if:

1. If the employee formally transfers to a RoviSys office local to the travel destination, then that location becomes the employee's permanent tax home. Standard travel policy will apply. OR
2. If the employee is reassigned and there is no intention of he/she returning to the One-Year destination, then the employee's tax home instantly reverts to a declared primary residence, or there can be re-application of 1-year rule to a new location.

One Year Rule Q&A

This Q&A session was held with our accounting firm, Maloney & Novotny who provided the information in the answer section of this One Year Rule spreadsheet.
